

Center for National Preparedness

Seminar Series Terrorism and Emergency Planning Kathleen Criss, CBCP

Emergency Management Coordinator
University of Pittsburgh
Medical Center

Kathleen Criss is the Emergency Management Coordinator for UPMC and she serves as a UPMC representative on the Statewide Advisory Committee for Preparedness and the PA Region 13/Metropolitan Medical Response System. Kathy is a Certified Business Continuity Professional and is past President of the Three Rivers Contingency Planning Association. She will be highlighting UPMC's efforts in integrating terrorism preparedness and response with existing emergency management plans. Kathy will also outline how effective business continuity planning can play a vital role in organizational emergency preparedness.

Thursday, February 10th 2005, 3:00pm - 4:00pm
5th Floor Alumni Hall
Reception to follow

Please RSVP by February 8th at www.cnp.pitt.edu/seminar

For more information regarding the center or the seminar series please visit:
<http://www.cnp.pitt.edu/seminar> or call
412-624-8291